Director, HR Business Operations | Asia Pacific | Ford Motor Company

I have greatly enjoyed my 20 year career working in Ontario and various locations in the US including New Jersey, Atlanta, Kansas City and Dearborn. I am currently serving as Director, HR Business Operations for Ford Motor Company's Asia Pacific Operations.

The AP region consists of eight unique markets which include Australia, India, Thailand and the largest automotive market in the world with China. I live and work in Shanghai which is truly among the premier cosmopolitan cities in the world. Working in China has been tremendously insightful and rewarding. Working across cultures has heightened my awareness as a business leader and given me a truly global perspective on consumers and industry trends. I have been particularly amazed at the speed of technological innovation and how e-commerce is being integrated into the daily lives of consumers. As mobility, connectivity and the traditional auto industry converge, it is a wonderful time to be working this business.
